Mission Today
FROM EVERYWHERE TO EVERYWHERE

Seminars for International Church Leaders, Missionaries, Mission Executives, Pastors, Educators, Students, and Lay Leaders

January 2007
Student Seminars on World Mission
“Constrained by Jesus’ Love”: Christian Mission Today (see the ad on page 216 or visit www.omsc.org/jan2007.pdf)

February 26–March 2, 2007
Leadership, Fund-raising, and Donor Development for Missions.
Mr. Rob Martin, director, First Fruits, Inc., Newport Beach, California, outlines steps for building the support base, including foundation funding, for mission. Eight sessions. $145

March 5–9
Little Letters of Paul: 1 Thessalonians, Philippians, Philemon.
Dr. Edgar Krentz, former New Testament professor at Concordia Seminary and Christ Seminary–Seminex, St. Louis, and at Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago, opens up the thinking and world of the apostle Paul. Cosponsored by Park Street Church (Boston). Eight sessions. $145

March 19–23
Challenges Facing Roman Catholic Mission Theology: From the Eve of Vatican II to the Twenty-first Century.
Dr. Lawrence Nemer, S.V.D., lecturer in mission studies at Yarra Theological Union, Box Hill, Australia, and senior mission scholar in residence, surveys shifts in Roman Catholic thinking on mission from the eve of Vatican II to the present and identifies the principal challenges facing Roman Catholic mission theology today. Eight sessions. $145

March 26–30
Worship and Mission.
Dr. Alan Kreider, associate professor of church history and mission at Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary, Elkhart, Indiana, and Mrs. Eleanor Kreider, musician, author, and specialist in worship, reflect on the twin themes: worship of God empowers God’s people for mission; the mission of God guides worship and provides a means for evaluating it. They give special attention to issues of inculturation. Cosponsored by Greenfield Hill Congregational Church (Fairfield, Connecticut), InterVarsity Missions/Urbana, and Mennonite Central Committee. Eight sessions. $145

April 9–13
Culture, Interpersonal Conflict, and Christian Mission.
Dr. Duane H. Elmer and Dr. Muriel I. Elmer, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Illinois, help Christian workers strengthen interpersonal skills and resolve conflicts among colleagues, including host country people. Cosponsored by Wycliffe International. Eight sessions. $145

April 16–20
Mission in the Shadow of Declining Empire.
Dr. Wilbert R. Shenk, professor of mission history and contemporary culture, Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, California, and senior mission scholar in residence, examines ways decline of the American empire—seeds of whose dissolution expert observers see as beginning to sprout—will shape the setting in which Christian mission will be carried out in the twenty-first century. Cosponsored by Moravian Church Board of World Mission and Wycliffe International. Eight sessions. $145

April 23–26 (note change of date)
Dr. Christopher J. H. Wright, international ministry director, Langham Partnership International, London, will unfold the relevance of Deuteronomy for contemporary Christian missions and ethics. Cosponsored by the Baptist Convention of New England and Trinity Baptist Church (New Haven). Eight sessions in four days. $145

May 7–11
Personal Renewal in the Missionary Community.
Rev. Stanley W. Green, executive director, Mennonite Mission Network, Elkhart, Indiana, blends classroom instruction and one-on-one sessions to offer a time of personal renewal, counsel, and spiritual direction for Christian workers. Cosponsored by Mennonite Mission Network. Eight sessions. $145
